

Getting to QIMR Berghofer

QIMR Berghofer is located in the Royal Brisbane and Women's Hospital precinct at Herston, four kilometres north of Brisbane's central business district and is accessible by bus, train, taxi and private transport. We will welcome you through the main entrance of the Central Building (pictured in red).

Paid parking:

- The closest parking to QIMR Berghofer is a multi-storey Cornerstone carpark located directly opposite the Institute at 325 Herston Road, Herston. The cost of two hours parking is $22.
- There is also a multi-storey Metro carpark on Bramston Terrace (the former Royal Children's Hospital carpark). The cost of two or more hours parking is $27.
- Some metered parking can be found in surrounding streets, particularly Gilchrist Avenue and Herston Road. These parking spaces are only metered until 7pm.
- The Brisbane Showgrounds' Pavilion carpark can be accessed via Gate 5 off O'Connell Terrace. The cost of two to three hours parking is $20. Please note that this carpark is a 10 – 15 minute walk from QIMR Berghofer.

Public transport:

- Bus: There are two bus interchanges located approximately five minutes walk from QIMR Berghofer:
 - The Royal Brisbane & Women's Hospital: The easiest way to access the Institute from this bus stop is by taking the lift to the ground floor, walking down Bowen Bridge Road and turning right onto Herston Road.
 - Herston: Take the lift or stairs from the bus stop to street level. Upon exiting the bus interchange, turn right on Herston Road and QIMR Berghofer is located approximately 200 metres away on the opposite side of the road.
- Train: The Fortitude Valley and Bowen Hills train stations are both approximately 20 minutes walk from QIMR Berghofer.
